Use the worlds most effective word game: "BENKYOU" to learn the language! "BENKYOU" is a language learning program that empowers you to create your own personal learning journey by learning Japanese words while playing a challenging game of word answering. Use over 50 games to learn Japanese, and learn words in your own language too. You can play words and words from many dictionaries at once. When you learn the answer, you are placed at the end of a word chain and given the next word. You can play words from the following dictionaries: *Dictionaries Phonetic PHONETIC 日本語の発音辞書 TADSHIN 日本語のカタカナ辞書 The HYPHENATION 日本語のカタカナ辞書 HAGEN Wubi-Addon: Japanese Dictionary Wubi Chinese Dictionary Wubi *Email The Japanese-English Dictionary of Reiko Yamashiro *Pronunciation Learn Japanese Pronunciation with a VOCALizer *Audio Learn Japanese with JLPT Study Audios *Screenshots Learn Japanese with JLPT Study Screenshots Learn Japanese Phonetic: Learn Japanese (ROM: romaji | EN: kana | AS: hiragana) is the alphabet and syllabary of the Japanese language and the native writing system of Japan. It is a syllabary, not a true alphabet. Unlike any other alphabet, each syllable of the Japanese language is represented by a distinct character. Hiragana as well as some cases of katakana are mostly used for the syllables in the most common combinations, like か/か (lit. "ka" and "wa") and な/な (lit. "ne" and "na"). The Japanese language uses kana, or "hiragana", and katakana, mixed with romaji to write Japanese in text. The syllables always appear with hiragana and katakana, and not romaji. "Hiragana" and "katakana" are Japanese terms but in Japan romaji is considered a foreign script and is not used. Since Japanese is an agglutinative language like Chinese and Korean, the syllables are attached together as the word is spoken
